Girl in Togo Chasing Our Car to Say "Good-bye" As We Leave Her Village

In 2002 I held an open air meeting in the eastern portion of the country of Togo, in a city called Tchamba. This area is dominated by Muslims. Many of them were at the fringe of our meeting listening in, but they did not dare come into our gatherings and sit down. Still we could see that they were listening intently to the Gospel message.

Since that time the Christians in Tchamba have carried on the work of the Lord and evangelism.

Our associate Nadjombe in the tiny country of Togo in West Africa, has sent me the following letter:

Dear Paul, bonjour,

Look this construction is for one of our new churches in Tchamba. No body helped them for this construction. There are now 263 members in that church; alleluia. In this photos, my wife, the pastor and the pastor's wife are outside the church last Sunday. The other photo shows the children of the Tchamba church.

God bless you Paul,

Nadjombe
